GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS (GER)

The requirements in this section apply to students who first enrolled in college after May 20, 1996.

A course taken to satisfy a requirement in the GER section of the checksheet may also be used to satisfy one, but only one, requirement in another section of the curriculum. All other required courses may only be used in the major once.

Example: Psych 210, Soc 360, Stat 301 or 371 may simultaneously be used to satisfy the GER Quantitative Reasoning B requirement AND the HDFS statistics requirement.

With proper planning, you may be able to fulfill many of the GER through courses that are required or allowed in other sections of the curriculum. Although it is possible that other combinations exist, specific courses or categories are listed below to provide you with some guidance in your planning.

HIGH IMPACT PRACTICE-BASED COURSES

These credits cannot be used to simultaneously fulfill another HDFS major requirement.
These credits can be obtained from ANY department across campus.

Example	Description
Service Learning Course	Any course listed in the course guide as a Service Learning course  To find service learning courses, check Schedule of Classes course descriptions or the Morgridge Center web site: http://www.morgridge.wisc.edu/programs/servicelearning/List.html or on the MyCourse Guide web site: http://public.my.wisc.edu/portal/render.userLayoutRootNode.uP
Research Experience	Includes supervised work on a faculty member's research project, but may also be a project initiated by students (e.g. HDFS 592) May be announced by faculty member during a class meeting, initiated by student, or by email announcement sent to HDFS majors
HDFS 601: Internship	A second semester of internship, in either the same or a new placement
Study Abroad Experience	Any 3-credit course taken as part of a study abroad experience
Additional courses with strong components of learning-by-doing or behavioral skills training	For example, HDFS 469, HDFS 535, HDFS 616, HDFS 647, HDFS 650, HDFS 663 -OR- Additional statistics course beyond the 3-cr requirement -OR- Additional research methods course beyond the 3-cr requirement
Undergraduate Teaching Assistant or Course Mentor	Typically an invited position for a course already completed at a high level of mastery  It should be performed under a 3-credit course number (for example as an independent study or a topics course)
Graduate Level Course	To request permission to register for a graduate level course, write directly to the instructor indicating your preparation and reason for requesting their specific course. Please note that not all faculty will allow undergraduates students to enroll in graduate level courses  (In the HDFS department, there are courses numbered 700 and higher; in other departments, any course listed in the course catalog as graduate level)
Courses You Can Justify	You may petition your SoHE academic advisor to approve any course as meeting this requirement. Your written justification should focus on (a) the professional skills training provided by the course, and/or (b) the high-impact nature of the teaching/learning situation (as in internships, skill training courses, and other learning-by-doing situations). This includes independent study credits (HDFS 299 or 501) for such activities as conducting a community service project related to the HDFS field of study. (Any independent study should be proposed by the student and approved by a faculty sponsor during the prior semester.)

Complementing Your Human Development & Family Studies Degree

All degrees require a minimum of 120 credits for graduation. The HDFS degree requirements do not equal 120 credits, so elective courses will be necessary. This worksheet includes several ways to frame your elective credits to complement your HDFS degree.

Additional Majors through the College of Letters & Science

SoHE students may complete any additional major through the College of Letters & Science, excluding Social Work, Journalism and Music. Additional majors are typically around 30 credits, but may include additional prerequisites.
